

As Lithuania is inviting foreign investment, creating a welcoming environment for start-ups, rapidly becoming more integrated into international markets and striving to follow the newest trends of technological advancement in various spheres, the demand for people with diverse expertise is constantly growing. International companies such as Western Union, Danske Bank, Booking.com, Barclays, Cognizant, Hella, Thermo Fisher, PwC, Uber and many others have been established in Lithuania, offering a lot of job openings for specialists in several languages. Smaller cities are also becoming more open, as employers are offering more positions to foreign workers due to the demographic shifts in our country. Therefore, the job market for foreign nationals is becoming more open and finding a job is easier than ever before.